

I think it is absurd to deregulate media markets. The situation as it is right now is that americans can't get nearly enough diverse perspectives on news issues. To further concentrate ownership is undemocratic and wrong.